Extinction Rebellion

“Life on Earth is in crisis. Our climate is changing faster than scientists predicted and the stakes are high. Biodiversity loss. Crop failure. Social and ecological collapse. Mass extinction. We are running out of time, and our governments have failed to act. Extinction Rebellion was formed to fix this.”

Their Demand

Tell the truth

Governments must tell the truth by declaring a climate and ecological emergency, working with other institutions to communicate the urgency for change.

02

Act now

Governments must act now to halt biodiversity loss and reduce greenhouse gas emissions to net zero by 2025.

Go beyond politics

Governments must create and be led by the decisions of a Citizens Assembly on climate and ecological justice.

What is Extinction Rebellion?

The 'Extinction Rebellion' or 'XR' started its journey in London in October 2016 with the participation of hundreds of social workers, professors and other professionals.

International Program 2019

Through a two-week program called 'International Rebellion', XR was able to spread its message in 70 cities around the world in October 2019.

Corona 2020: This time it happened

Due to the Corona crisis in 2020, public life in the UK has been stagnant for so long as soon as the lockdown started.

XR around the world

There have been similar protests outside the UK in addition to the days of the International Rebellion of 2019.

'XR' on social media

According to a report in The Observer, the platform has been featured online more than 60,000 times during the International Rebellion 2019.

The reaction of the people

A survey conducted in 2019 took the opinion of the residents of some parts of London 48% of participants said they supported the XR program.

Famous XR supporters

Personalities such as British actress Emma Thomson, environmentalist Greta Thunberg, astronomer James Hansen and many other famous men voiced their support for XR.

Great Greta!

Greta Tintin Eleonora Ernman Thunberg is a Swedish environmental activist who is known for challenging world leaders to take immediate action for climate change.

- Thunberg became well-known after she protested outside the Swedish parliament in 2018, when she was 15.
- She held a sign saying "School Strike for Climate", to pressure the government to meet carbon emissions targets.
- Her small campaign had a global effect, inspiring thousands of young people across the world to organise their own strikes.
- By December 2018, more than 20,000 students - from the UK to Japan - had joined her by skipping school to protest.
